A GENERAL LETTER TO YOU FROM US

This is a revised version of our 1954-1955 fall and winter season offerings of hybrid Amaryllis imported and domestic listing those varieties still available.

The following Dutch strains are available in 3" to 3½" diameter.

Our booklet 'Cultural Care of Imported Amaryllis Bulbs' is well worth the 50 cents per copy asked.

"You are indeed wise if you recognize and appreciate the marvelous flowers GOD gives us, doubly wise if you thank HIM for them."

PREVIEW OF THINGS TO COME

Next, starting in June and till sold out or till the soil freezes we will offer the following members of the LYCORIS family imported from Japan.

Japanese Magic Lily

L. SQUAMIGERA, Japanese Magic Lily also known as the hardy Amaryllis, halli. Foliage dies down in June and about mid August there suddenly appears a flower stem about two feet tall with a number of the most exquisite pink touched with pale lavender lily like blooms from the top of the stem. These can be cut to adorn the inside of your home lasting, well, for better than a week.

6" circumference bulbs 3 for $1.25 or $4.00 doz.

7" circumference bulbs 3 for $1.50 or $4.50 doz.

Price of these has increased slightly in view of the sharp increase in parcel post fees which we have assumed the past two seasons but now must share with you.

L. AUREA, the magnificent yellow spider lily. — Not as hardy as the L. Squamigera but with protection can be grown outdoors safely as far north as Richmond, Va.

5" to 6" circumference bulbs 6 for $2.75 or $5. dozen.

L. RADIATA, red — the dainty red spider lily. Hardy like the L. Squamigera.

3" to 4" circumference bulbs 6 for $1.75 or $3.00 dozen.

L. RADIATA, alba — the creamy white spider lily, not hardy and quite scarce.

3" to 4" circumference bulbs 6 for $3.50 or $6.50 dozen.

AMARYLLIS, WORSLEYA PROCERA

Blue flowering "EMPRESS OF BRAZIL" for years thought to be out of cultivation. A rare natural grove of this species was discovered in the Organ Mountains some few years ago and successfully brought back into cultivation. We have made arrangements with the discoverer and grower of this spectacular species to export to us a limited quantity of them which will be available in the late summer for early fall bloom.

The bulbs are large (up to 6" diameter) with elongated neck 10" to 12" from which the broad sickle shaped evergreen leaves protrude.

The flower stem flat and erect to 15" bears 2 to 6 sky-blue to lilac blooms 4" to 5" across. — It may possibly require one season to establish this bulb without bloom and only Amaryllis lovers with abundant patience should grow these, which are priced at $10.00 each and so that all those who desire one or more of them should order at once since we cannot add to our order to the grower.

FRENCH GROWN AMARYLLIS

At long last we have finally made a firm contract with a French grower for the following bulbs to be offered in our new folder in September.

Amaryllis, vittata in mixed colors. This specie is the ancestor of many hybrids.

Amaryllis, gigantea — jaspered pink

Amaryllis, gigantea — red with white ribbon

These French bulbs are scarce.
